“Socialized Medicine in Denmark: Facts and Myths, and Implications for Research in Public Health”

Thursday, May 26, 2016
4:30 p.m. in the Doll & Hill Room
Taylor Avenue Building

At a presidential debate hosted by CNN in October, Sanders brought up Denmark and the surrounding Scandinavian states when asked to describe what "democratic socialism" means to him. "I think we should look to countries like Denmark, like Sweden and Norway," Sanders said, "and learn what they have accomplished for their working people. In Denmark, there is a very different understanding of what "freedom" means... they have gone a long way to ending the enormous anxieties that comes with economic insecurity". Dr. Andersen will discuss facts and myths about healthcare and research implications in this small country in Scandinavia.

Join us for a reception in the break area after the presentation.

Co-sponsored by the Institute for Public Health, the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, the Department of Medicine, and the Department of Anesthesiology

For more information:
Deborah Curtis (314) 454-7940
curtisd@wudosis.wustl.edu

www.publichealthsciences.wustl.edu